WARREN PAVING TO BEGIN LEVELING ON WEST RAILROAD STREET

Long Beach, MS, July 14, 2025— On Monday, July 14, Warren Paving will commence roadway leveling on West Railroad Street as part of the City of Long Beach’s ongoing effort to fully repave this vital corridor. Railroad Street is one of the most-traveled roads in Long Beach and a top priority for the City, making this project essential to improving daily commutes and supporting local businesses.

This preparatory work will ensure a smooth, durable surface ahead of the full-depth repaving scheduled later this summer. During leveling operations, one lane will remain open to traffic, but motorists should anticipate minor delays and reduced speeds through the work zone.

“Improving West Railroad Street is a top priority for our community,” said Mayor Tim Pierce. “We appreciate residents’ patience and ask everyone to please slow down and remain alert while crews are on site.”

Key Details

- Work begins: Monday, July 14
- Location: West Railroad Street
- Traffic impacts: One lane open; expect minor delays and reduced speeds
- Safety reminder: Please use caution and watch for crews and equipment

The City of Long Beach thanks all motorists and nearby residents for their cooperation. Further updates on the full-depth repaving timeline will be provided in the coming weeks.
